The 2017 Cleaning Show Announces UNGER Stingray Winner Indoor Window Cleaning Solution Captures Industry Award for Innovation

WILLENHALL, UK (March 14, 2017) – UNGER’s Stingray Indoor Window Cleaning Solution, one of the company’s recent innovations in its portfolio of smart cleaning tools, was recognized during the 2017 Cleaning Show London as a Winner in the Window Cleaning Category of the 2017 Innovation Award.

UNGER introduced the Stingray system to meet the demands of customers looking for a safe, more effective way to clean indoor windows. The UNGER Stingray cleans 25% faster and uses 39% less cleaning agent than traditional spray and cloth cleaning. The UNGER Stingray enables users to clean up to 1600 sq. ft. of glass with a single pouch of Stingray 3M Scotchgard Glass Cleaner and Protector.

“Earning the Cleaning Show Innovation Award is a testament to the team who developed this revolutionary tool to help cleaning professionals’ clean indoor glass faster and better,” said John Lombardo, vice president of global sales and marketing. “The UNGER Stingray is a great example of how we at UNGER continue to drive innovation, both in terms of unbeatable functionality and thoughtful design.”

The UNGER Stingray is the Perfect Tool for:

- Every Day Maintenance - Cleans windows with ease and keeps them clean
- High Access- Safely reaches up to 18 feet from the ground, no ladder necessary
- Public Areas- Nozzle and pad design allows for safe cleaning with no airborne chemicals
- Hard to Reach Areas - Low-profile, triangular head rotates 360 degrees to reach all areas
